Professor Stephen Farry,

Regina College, Regina, Sask.

Dear Sir:

The Manager of our Book Department has sent me on my arrival home the correspondence which he had with you with regard to the University Hymn Book. I am sorry that you have found the book unsatisfactory as to binding, and I should like very much if we were able to give you something that would meet your needs better. At the present, however, we are unable to do so. The first edition has not yet been paid for and we have to carry somewhat of a debt. I have good hopes that possibly this year, but at any rate by next year, we may be in a position to have our expenses cleared. Whenever that is the case I think the Committee will be glad to go to the additional expense of issuing an edition with words only. At present we have only the one form in the various bindings about which Mr. Hamilton wrote to you. I hope that you have found the hymnal itself of service and also that in the future we may be able to render it more generally useful by being able to supply a smaller edition.

Yours sincerely,

President.
